2005 REUNION PLANS GET UNDERWAY

Wednesday, Oct. 5th is Registration Day, but as usually is the case, we are sure that many of our members will have arrived a day before on Tuesday.

The first order of business will be the setting up of The Hospitality Room, where Registration will be held.

Wednesday Evening will also be the first Informal Board Meeting of The Association Board of Directors and the Foundation Board of Directors.

There are no other formal plans for Wednesday Evening at this time, but that may change before the next issue of The Bugle comes out (Jun-Jul), and if it does, The plans will be announced then.

Thursday we will board our buses in front of the hotel at 8:00 A.M. and head on out for Pine Mountain, Georgia. Here we will change into special Safari Buses for a tour of the Wild Animal Safari Park. This extremely outstanding tour through this unique facility is explained and outlined in detail in the story on Page 28+29 of this issue. Following the Safari, we will head for World-Famous Calloway Gardens for lunch and a tour of their 14,000-acre Garden, including a walk through their Gigantic Butterfly Greenhouse, where at least one-million live Butterflies swirl through the air.

With a full important formal day ahead of us, Friday's schedule begins a little more relaxed. We'll board our buses in front of the hotel at 10:00 A.M., then a short drive to Ft. Benning, where we'll stop at The Officer's Club for lunch before proceeding to Sacrifice Field, for the unveiling and dedication of our Monument. The full story describing the events of this day will also be found on page 28+29 of this issue.

Saturday Morning will have the optional Ladies Shopping Tour, while the men hold the Annual Board and General Meetings. Saturday afternoon is at leisure and the formal Banquet is that evening. A detailed story on the Banquet and festivities will also be in the Reunion Story on Page 28+29 of this issue.

NEW 17th INFANTRY BOOK

A new book on the 17th Infantry Regiment is underway. The book will be a Hard-Bound, High-Quality Coffee-Table type, 8-1/2" X 11" in size, containing approximately 128-Pages with hundreds of photographs.

The Cover and the first-third of the book will deal with our Monument Project, the construction and Unveiling at the Dedication Ceremony at Sacrifice Field on Ft Benning, Georgia.

The second third of the book will contain many photographs and Photo Montages from our last dozen or so Annual Reunions.

The final third of the book will be sort of a Soldier's Scrapbook, with hundreds of photos from Korea and WW-II supplied by our members.

If you have any fair to good quality photographs that you'd like to see included in this book, send them to Editor Stewart Rothman, 921 Wood Way, Fairbanks, AK 99709-4732.

The book will list for $21.95, but all those who have donated for a Paver at our Monument will receive one copy for each Paver you or your family donated for.

Those Members who wish additional copies for families, friends and relatives may order additional copies at 50-% discount off the list price.

All proceeds from those sales will be donated to our General Quinn's "Buffalo Bill" Scholarship Fund.

By Stewart N. "Stu" Rothman

This October's Reunion of our 17th Infantry Association should be the most spectacular ever held. It was just a little more than one dozen years ago, when LTG "Buffalo Bill" Quinn and the 17th Infantry Regiment Association East, united with COL Jake Wittler's 17th Infantry Association, West to form the National Association we are today.

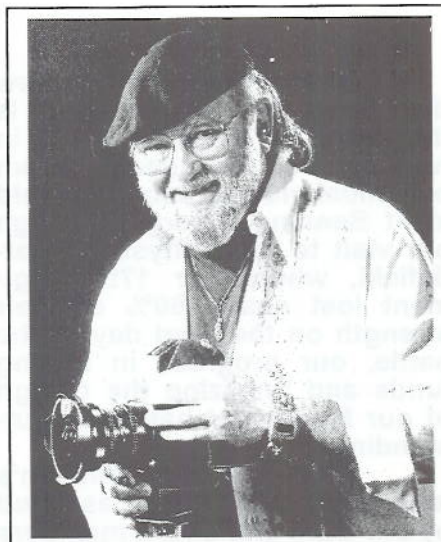

From the 1954 first joint Reunion in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, we have grown from a few hundred to what we are today with a membership of nearly one thousand.

The concept that we should be exceptionally proud of today is that our membership today contains an ever-increasing number of today's young soldiers. We of WW-II, Korea, and Vietnam are aging. It is no surprise to realize that as time passes, our numbers decrease. Without the influx of the soldiers of today, our Regimental Association would pass on and be forgotten. If this were to happen, a great part of American History would be lost.

Now that we are about to construct a Monument at Ft. Benning, Georgia, the Home Of The U.S. Infantry, our place in History is assured. Our Association Members, Family and many Friends have come together and donated more than $60,000.00 to build and maintain this Monument.

We had been talking about a Monument to be built at Ft. Benning, Georgia for many years, but in 2001 at our Reunion in Gig Harbor, Washington, a new member of the Association, Jack Reynoldson, proposed that we initiate the project to create the Monument. He forecast that he would be able to procure sufficient donations from the many Corporations in Washington, DC that he was associated with, to fund the major portion of the Monument.

Although the financial atmosphere was not conducive to his proposals at that time, Jack, his family and friends soon donated enough funds to become a major donor to the project himself.

Many of our members went themselves to Companies and Corporations they knew and solicited them for donations. One member in particular, John Graham had an idea, he figured that since we were with the Kentucky Rifles in 1812, why not solicit The State of Kentucky for a donation. He wrote the Governor and pitched the project and gave him my name. They called me and after subsequent discussions and sending them some documentation, they donated $2,000.00 to our project.

Taking this action as a spur, I contacted the Governor of Alaska and solicited his office for a donation. After all, our current active unit is stationed in Alaska, and in 1943, the 17th Infantry kicked the Japanese Invaders off of The Aleutian Islands of Alaska. We haven't received anything yet, but the Legislature is meeting now and we believe that we will get a donation early this year.

I've also written The President of South Korea and received a response that they are considering a donation and they have forwarded the papers to The South Korean Consul General in Atlanta, Georgia, so we will just have to wait and see what transpires there.

A few months after the initial project was started, our then new Secretary, Don Shook, informed me that a Life-Sized Bronze Buffalo was being offered for sale on the National Computer Auction known as Ebay. I checked it out and quickly called the owner, viewed the Buffalo and polled our Board for the approval to purchase it.

We then obtained it for only $7,000.00, about a third of its actual value. As this issue is going to press, our Buffalo is enroute from the warehouse facility where we were storing it in Wisconsin, to Macon, Georgia, where Clark Memorials Co., the contractor for our Monument is located. By the time this Bugle is in your hands, our Buffalo will be in Georgia.

Working with the Real Estate Officer at Ft. Benning and the Protocol Officer, I have obtained for us a significant program. The Officials there at Ft. Benning were extremely helpful and bent over backwards to help us along with the planning for the Unveiling and Dedication.

We will have an Army Band, a Color Guard, and a Rifle Team who will execute a 21-Gun Salute. Ft. Benning is arranging to set up 200-Chairs at the site for us. The possibility exists that we may get the Commanding General of The U.S. Infantry there to speak at the dedication.

Our own Chaplain Strube will also speak at the dedication, remembering those who could not be here for the ceremonies.

A complete story and the schedule of events to take place during these activities may be found on Page 28+29 of this issue.

One nice feature about the site for our Memorial at Sacrifice Field on Ft. Benning, is that it is located a short 30-yards from the entrance to the current National Infantry Museum.

This museum houses thousands of interesting and unique items and reflects the role played by Infantrymen in the defense of our Nation. More than two-hundred years of proud history are on display.

After the dedication ceremonies and unveiling of our Monument, I have scheduled an hour or so for those who wish to look through The Museum.

Our schedule is open Saturday afternoon, and as Ft. Benning is only about 15 to 20 minutes from our hotel, those who may wish to return Saturday afternoon for a more extensive tour might wish to do so.

A COMMENT ON THE OUT- STANDING PROGRESS ON OUR BUFFALO MONUMENT

In this issue in my view the "Long Pole in the Tent" is the report of progress made in funding our Monument. From our initial visit to Sacrifice Field at Ft Benning, Georgia through our visit to the Gettysburg Battlefield, where our 17th Regiment lost nearly 60% of their strength on the third day of the battle, our progress in raising funds and finalizing the design of our Monument has been outstanding!

President Stu Rothman's leadership and drive, assisted by our Staff and Board members has been notable! I belong to eight different Military Associations and our progress in erecting our Buffalo Monument at Ft Benning is the most impressive action I've seen - particularly for a Regimental sized unit!

In today's Army "Slang"

Pictured above is a photo of the site where our Monument will be erected at Sacrifice Field on Ft. Benning. It is interesting to note that this site is approximately only 30-yards from the Infantry Museum on Ft. Benning. I obtained the photograph from Dominick DeCarlo, the Real Estate Officer at Ft. Benning, who has been a great help in completing our project.

CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

Recent pictures of the terrible havoc of the Tsunami disaster around the Indian Ocean brought back two memories from the Korean War that will always be with me.

The first is the very unpleasant picture of starving Korean children who seemed to come from nowhere to beg for food whenever a convoy stopped for a break.

The other is a beautiful picture of hungry, tired soldiers going without food as they put their cans of C-rations into the outstretched hands of the starving children.

Army Chaplains played a major role in establishing eleven orphanages in Korea during the war. Portions of offerings received in Army Chapels all over the world were used to support that work. Even though this was announced regularly, you most probably do not remember taking part in that effort.

More recently, we have learned that an outstanding soldier and member of the 17th Infantry Association, CSM Tim Green, has been spending his spare time helping children in Afghanistan. I hope many of you responded to his appeal for things he could use in his work among the children.

Now in response to the Tsunami disaster, we see pictures American military men and women helping the unfortunate people in that devastated area.

My experience has been that American Military people are among the most caring and self-giving people I have had the privilege of knowing. Far too frequently our fellow citizens do not recognize it. Let me just say

THANK YOU!

FROM THE COMMANDER'S DESK

LTC Al Kelly
Greetings All!

Happy New Year. Wow how time flies when you're having fun. I cannot believe I have been in command for almost seven months now. I have heard many speak of the "flash" they call command. By the time you figure it out, it's over, no matter how hard you try and pull back the hands of time.

This will be an exciting year for the Buffalos. As I reflect daily, I am astounded at the many tasks we accomplish as an Army but even more so as a unit. The soldiers and families of this unit are truly amazing. Despite the weather, figuring out new equipment, and a myriad of other distracters they continue to plow forward and prepare for deployment.

As of December, DOD announced the next rotation for OIF/OEF. It is now official that the Buffalos will be part of this rotation. Dates are not important just keep you eye on the news and you can follow the battalion as we deploy sometime this summer.

The Buffalos are continuously focused on our upcoming mission. We have recently completed a Warfighter Exercise where the staff conducted numerous planning and preparation missions using the military decision making process. This is nothing new except that we did this while using our new digital systems. The TOC is something just short of the helm of the Star Ship Enterprise. It's truly amazing what technology has brought to us as an Army.

We have also been busy getting after the skills of our trade. These truly amazing soldiers of the Thundering Herd have been blessed with a strong group of junior leaders. They have been focused on what we believe are the skills that form the crucible for the Buffalos - shooting, physical training, medical training (for every soldier), combative (hand to hand) and maintaining our equipment.

The Buffalos were instrumental in supporting 2-1 Infantry (our sister battalion) during their first company level training missions with STRYKER equipment. We provided opposing forces and observer controllers for this critical team-building event. The Buffalos received numerous laudatory comments from our senior leaders and the soldiers of 2-1 IN.

They then continued to shoot, shoot and shoot again. We topped it off with some well-deserved leave over the holidays. Our future will keep us as busy with an upcoming bout of platoon evaluations and another deployment to the Joint Readiness Training Center in the spring.

In line with the Chief of Staff of the Army's Warrior Ethos, these soldiers are true warriors. I am proud to serve with them on a daily basis. No task is too great for them and they cannot seem to get enough of what they do. They will not quit or accept defeat.

On behalf of all the Buffalos here we would like to wish all of you a Happy and Prosperous New Year. As always, we thank those who have served before us and continue to serve and support us. May God Bless.

The mission continues for the Buffalos

By CSM Crisostomo

Greetings, fellow Buffalos

It is indeed a great honor to be part of the best battalion in the greatest Army of the world. The year 2004 has finally ended with great accomplishments from the Buffalos.

Since my arrival to the battalion, we have executed a process of manning, equipping, and training leaders and Soldiers who are soon to be deployed to Operation Iraqi Freedom in mid 2005.

Last quarter's activities included a battalion FTX, a brigade FTX, and participation in the 172d SBCT War fighter exercise. A few Soldiers also had the opportunity to train a Reserve unit on combative in Hawaii. Preparation for new equipment training of our battalion Mortars is underway at fort Richardson.

The Buffalos also conducted an All Ranks Ball in December, which turned out superbly. Each Family Readiness Group (FRG) planned and held their company Halloween and Christmas parties. Our annual single Soldier Bowling Tournament went well even with a few attendees due to red cycle details. The battalion executed an SRP in preparation for our upcoming deployment to JRTC in May.

Upcoming events for the Buffalos will consists of company changes of commands, weapons marksmanship, combative and Lines fighting, TC4 (advance CLS medical training), Rapid Fielding of new equipment (RFI), squad/platoon live fire exercises, Stryker ATGM NET, MGS NET, Mortars Carrier B. NET, and JRTC LTP. Several Buffalo Soldiers are also testing the new Army Combat Uniform (ACU) which will replace our current Battle Dress Uniform (BDU) and the XM-8 Rifle.

I am extremely proud of all the hard work, dedication, and sacrifices these Soldiers are performing. The pace has picked up and is moving rapidly. I am proud to be a life member of this Regiment and I can tell each and every one of you that the Buffalos are continuing to live up to the Regimental motto.

From the Desk of the Honorary SGM & Scholarship Chairman

A New Year has begun and Evelyn and I wish everyone a very Happy New Year, and any resolutions you have made will be reasonable ones that can be kept without much strain. The intentions are there but sometimes/somewhere along the way the will power gives out. President Dwight D. Eisenhower once said, "Plans are useless, but planning is indispensable".

The Scholarship Award Fund has been very successful since it was first established in the Association in 2001. We have had total disbursements of $5000.00 to date.

The moneys that support this Fund come from donations of Association members and the sale of General Quinn's last book "It wasn't Funny Then", but because of the slow book sales, I am making a plea for donations to the Fund and maintain it's solvency for years to come. Donations may be made directly to our Treasurer George Harvey or to me. Make checks payable to "17th Infantry Scholarship Fund".

As Membership Chairman of the Combat Infantrymen's Association, I invite any and all members of this Association who have been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge (CIB) to join and become a member of this prestigious group of men. Contact me and I will mail you an Application Form. The cost is $20.00 for a (2) two year Membership, or $75.00 for Life Membership.

I have never met a Combat Infantry vet who doesn't treasure his Combat Infantryman's Badge (CIB) it takes precedence over all other awards. CIB's have been awarded to Infantry soldiers from Guadalcanal, Iwo Jima, Battle of the Bulge, North Africa and on the mean streets of Afghanistan and Iraq.

So it goes with out saying just how extremely proud I am to be a part of such an ELITE organization.

"IN HONOR OF THE COMBAT INFANTRYMEN."

We were boys and we were young, We became men on that hill we over ran, Some of us lived, some of us died, For a moment with us abide, So join in prayer with me, To honor those of the Combat Infantry.

Closing with the words of President John F. Kennedy "Let every nation know, whether it wishes us well or ill, that we will pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, oppose any foe to assure the survival and success of FREEDOM"

Happy New Year

AFGHANISTAN REPORT

By CSM Tim Green
Bagram Airfield

Fellow Buffalos,

As a nation we are all involved in the reconstruction of Afghanistan. We conduct combat operations on one front and conduct reconstruction and humanitarian assistance missions on many others.

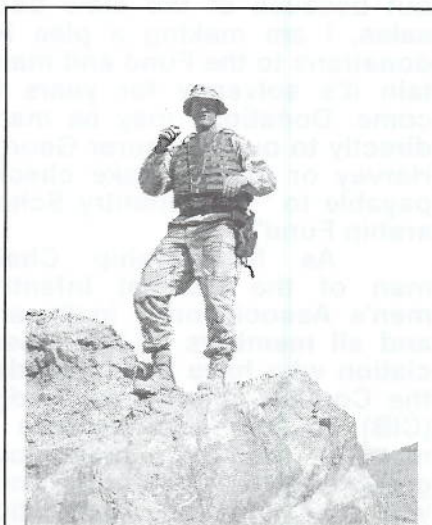

I tell my Afghan friends that the United States and our coalition partners aren't here to just build or rebuild "things"--schools, wells, clinics, institutions, roads--we are here to primarily help people rebuild their lives.

A nation that once thrived on its own, and even had institutions rivaling anything in the West, has been so ravished and obliterated by years of war and drought is just now beginning to pick themselves up by their own bootstraps, but is years away from standing on its own without wobbling.

Most cannot afford or even obtain rudimentary things they need for health, education, creativity, and productiveness. That's where the great generosity of the American people comes in.

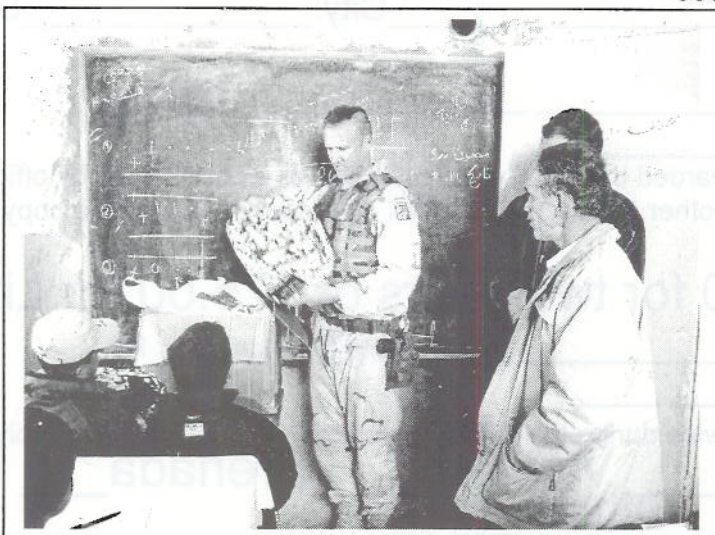

I am fortunate to have a job that offers me so many opportunities to interact with the people in their own homes and communities, and most importantly, their lives.

Some units also have the opportunity to personally help the people. Our aviation unit has a program called "Operation Shoe Fly." Folks back in the US send shoes to the aviation unit and the aviators will take the shoes on flights with them and distribute them to villages they fly to.

Editor's Note: This photo of Tim on a hill in Afghanistan, that he included with his Christmas Card Greetings, was so impressive that I just had to include it here.

The Air Force has a toy program for children, and in my own unit we have so many detachments collecting donations for the people. There is no shortage of individuals or units willing to personally get involved, above and beyond what we are already doing militarily. But truth be told, we are only the conduits for all these donations. We can't get them ourselves, and it isn't fair to say how "great" we are for doing it.

We want to do it, as anyone in our position would want to do it, but it is the compassionate and generous partners we have back home that make this program even at all possible, the partners the Afghan people never meet and see for themselves. They are warm and generous people themselves, and are truly grateful to all the wonderful American people.

I'd like to personally thank a few people who have sent me clothing, school supplies, medical supplies, personal hygiene products, toys, games, crayons, and any host of sundries to distribute to the Afghan people.

By far, the single greatest donor is John Graham. John must have spent over $1000.00 on goods and postage and has even quit emailing me to tell me more is inbound. It just shows up.

My wife Theresa has done so much to help me and has sponsored my two Afghan girls like they were her own children; Chaplain and Janet Strube; Larry and Ev Haynes; Stu and Lee Rothman; Hayes Larkin and his dentist friend sent tooth brushes and tooth paste; Jim Rohr and the kind teacher he volunteers with, Renee Abbott and her third grade class; George Harvey, Leo Ruffing, and many VFW and American Legions, and schools. If I left your name off PLEASE let me know.

I may be the face they see but you who have sent me your generosity are the real heroes and deserve recognition. Without you I am just a bum.

Gil and Ardie Isham sent me beef sticks and crackers to enjoy Sunday football games with. Chaplain Strube told me the story of an orphanage he and many of you sponsored during your time in Korea.

Different country, different people, different times, same story. Our work will never be done as long as evil exists, and innocent people suffer. I am grateful to you all for still being of service. Thank you for helping me, and know the Afghan people thank you also.

Miscellaneous

Six members served with the 49th Field Artillery that supported the 17th.

Three members served in the Marines as well as the Army
 Five members served in the Navy as well as the Army.
 And one member served in the Navy, the Marines, and the Army.

Summary

Aside from raw numbers, the surveys are a wealth of information that I will dig into.

A few examples;

Robert Heiter in Alaska served in Company A just as his father did in Korea.

"The Order of the Buffalo" was awarded to non-infantrymen like a major in the 49th Field Artillery.

William Garner has written a poem.

Confession

Stu's deadline overwhelmed me and I have not included all the latest surveys that I have received. But you get the idea.

FROM THE SECRETARY'S DESK

By Don Shook

Greetings Fellow Buffalo

I hope that you all had a great holiday season and I want to wish all Buffalo a prosperous 2005. I can't tell you how excited I am about this year's reunion. I know that our President, Stu Rothman, has been doing a lot of work on the memorial and the reunion specifics, so rest assured that this could be the biggest 17th Infantry Regiment reunion to date. Included with this issue is a list of all current members of the Association and their contact information. This was the idea of board member Doug Bell, and I think that if we all use it, we can assure greater attendance at this year's reunion in Georgia.

This past year has been a blessing in finding new potential members and old friends. The contact list in this issue will only help our members stay in contact and promote brotherhood within the organization. Another way to get the message out to people who are not yet members is through city newspapers and military publications.

I was given the task this year of making sure that the reunion in October is posted in as many publications as possible. So far, I've got a few listed in organizations like the VFW and several on-line web based reunion search engines. If there are magazines and publications that you know of, please let me know how I can contact them. For example, a lot of guys mentioned the magazine "Graybeard" last year at the reunion in San Francisco and I've searched for information on this publication on the web and have found nothing that would help me contact them for reunion details. Feel free to send me an E-Mail at:

deshook@7thinfantry.com

Or Postal Mail me anything that you might think helpful in my task. Another thing that we can all do is contact local papers and see if they'll list the reunion details in it. Usually services such as this are free, so it would only take a call or e-mail to get the word out to potential members.

Another item that I was tasked with this year was to come up with a new design for the challenge coin used by the 17th Infantry Regiment Association for life memberships, etc.

I've received a lot of feedback from several members of the Association and will make sure that a design is made and approved by the Officers and Board in the near future. Basically, I believe that the front of the coin should stay the same – with the Buffalo and Battle campaigns. There will be some additions to the list because it now reflects only the battle campaigns of the 1st Battalion. I believe that the back of the coin should have the old and new crests depicted, as well as the wording "17th Infantry Regiment Association." Stay tuned for more information on this in future Bugles.

I have recently moved, so please make sure that you use my current home address listed in the index of this issue. My e-mail address has not changed and if you wish to contact me via the phone, my new phone number is: 724-334-8876. Please note that I live outside of Pittsburgh, PA, so if calling in the evening, please don't call after 10:00 EST.

The memorial will soon be constructed at Ft Benning and I believe that it will be a very prominent feature at Sacrifice Field. Now is the time to purchase a Paver if you haven't already done so. The fact that this organization has collected the amount of money that we did within our own ranks is amazing, and a feat that not too many organizations could achieve. I applaud you all for a job well done. A little cohesiveness goes a long way.

"TRUTH AND COURAGE"

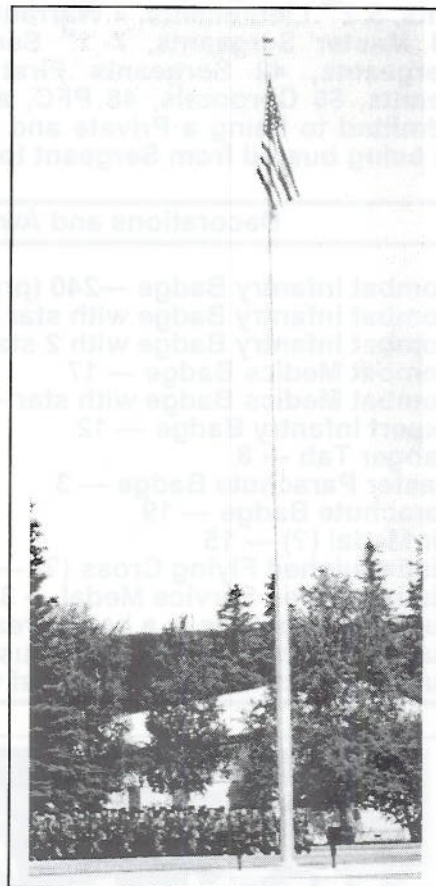

Donald E Shook Jr.

Secretary of the Association, &
Distinguished Member of the Regiment

Military Quote:

"He will win who knows when to fight and when not to fight. He will win who knows how to handle both superior and inferior forces. He will win whose army is animated by the same spirit throughout all its ranks. He will win who, prepared himself, waits to take the enemy unprepared. He will win who has military capacity and is not interfered with by the sovereign."

ONE OF YOURS NINE OF OURS

By Sam Ginder

By the summer of 1952 the war in Korea had become the strange conflict of stalemate. Much like the First World War, the combatants were dug into trenches and bunkers with the conflict revolving mainly around reconnaissance patrols and platoon sized probes to test enemy strength and take prisoners for intelligence purposes.

In the summer of 1952, the U.S. Army's 3rd Battalion, 17th Infantry Regiment, 7th Division had positions north of to day's demilitarized zone along the 38th parallel. The 17th Regiment, called the Buffaloes, and its 3rd Battalion, called the Blue Buffaloes, held their Main Line of Resistance near Chorwon with the Kumwah Valley behind them. The action was mostly patrols and small unit encounters.

One former platoon leader recalls, "I arrived in Korea in May 1952. In my first six weeks in Korea, We had five casualties. Two men walked into a minefield returning from swimming. Two were shot coming back from patrol by our own guard because they didn't know the password, and the fifth had a heart attack. It was a very quiet war at the time."

The area had a huge hill on the right called 1098, since hills were named for their elevation. In the middle of the valley was a little hill called 202. The Chinese owned Hill 202, were well dug in, and constantly harassed our troops going to and returning from patrol.

To relieve this situation, Company K of the 3rd Battalion, Blue Buffaloes, received orders to assault the summit of Hill 202, destroy the position and take prisoners.

The platoon commanded by First Lieutenant Robert Adam Renneman was chosen to lead the assault. On the morning of 16 July 1952, Hill 202 was enveloped in a heavy shroud of mist. Bob took the lead position and moved his platoon out to make the assault. Company A, 73rd Tank Battalion and the 1st.

Platoon 17th Regimental Tank Company were to provide direct fire support for the assault, but with the visibility so poor there was little they could do for fear of hitting their own troops. Those present remembered the morning as being eerily still and quiet as Bob's platoon moved out. One recalled, you could easily tell who Bob was because he was so much taller than everyone else, and he was in the lead.

When the mist lifted, all hell broke loose. The Chinese small arms fire was so thick you could almost see and feel it. They threw hand grenades, rolling them down the hill as they often did. Bob picked the grenades up with one hand while firing a semi-automatic weapon with the other, and threw the grenades back at the Chinese.

One observer reports, "You could see that he was hit several times because he was staggered. A veritable wall of fire came down from the top of that hill and we never saw a Chinese. Not one! They were so well dug in and so deep you couldn't see them. Bob finally fell, got up again exhorting his men to follow him. When he was finally downed for the last time he was so far in front of his unit that his body could not be recovered. So licking our wounds we came back."

The next morning the Blue Buffaloes saw something white on Hill 202. Looking at it through binoculars they could tell it was a shroud. It was placed so that our patrols would find it. Thinking it was a trap; the Blue Buffaloes hesitated to send out a patrol to investigate. After a debate that lasted throughout the day, they at last sent a heavily armed patrol to examine the white shroud.

Bob's body was under the shroud all washed and cleaned. The body was not booby-trapped as was the Chinese custom, and amazingly Bob's boots were still on his feet. His uniform had been repaired to close the bullet holes and his hands were crossed on his chest with his Naval Academy class ring still on his finger.

The Chinese also left a note on Bob's body. There are two accounts of what the note said. One is: "Brave soldier. Take him home." The other account: "One of yours for nine of ours." The Blue Buffalo patrol brought Bob's body back to our lines without drawing fire from the Chinese. That too was remarkable.

As one observer reported, "That was not like the Chinese. The Chinese never before showed any emotion or did anything like that. They must have been struck by his bravery."

One who witnessed Bob Renneman's heroism recently said, "There hasn't been a week that's gone by since I saw that, that I haven't thought of Bob. You always hear about the Halseys and Nimitzes and Admiral Fletchers and all those great heroes of World War II. And others, like McCain and your POW classmates, who performed under unimaginable conditions.

But you never hear about people like Bob who did exactly what he was taught to do here at the Naval Academy. Leadership, honor, integrity; he had them all. I can still see that incredible hail of fire and Bob picking up hand grenades and throwing them back while shooting with the other hand. He died leading with incredible heroism. At the infantry school there is an insignia of a blue shield with a white sword on it and the motto, 'Follow me!' written on it. That's exactly what he did."

So that was what happened on Hill 202 on 16 and 17 June 1952. Bob Renneman received the Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry in action and the respect of his fellow soldiers. Friend and Foe. The action never received press coverage, nor is it recorded in the history books. But those who knew Bob Renneman and those eyewitnesses that were there will never forget. Leadership, honor, integrity; he did indeed have them all.

Follow me! To give the command and have others follow, is that not what leadership is all about?

CSM TIM GREEN VISITS SCHOOL IN SPARTANBURG, SC

By Jim Rohr

Editor's Note: (Tim Green is the former CSM, 1st Bn, 17th Rgt at Ft. Wainwright, Alaska. He served two terms as Vice-President of our Association and is the DMOR-HDMOR Committee Chairman.)

The 1st grade class and Mrs. Renee Abbott, their teacher, at the Mary H Wright Elementary School, in Spartanburg, SC; were given a big surprise on November 9, when during the middle of their morning reading program in walked CSM Tim Green.

He came to visit the class, which has been in correspondence with him for the past couple of months. The class started a program called "Kids for Kids" which involves getting much needed health items, such as toothbrushes, tooth paste, soap and skin cream for CSM Green's "kids" in Bagram, Afghanistan.

When he walked into the classroom the kids literally mobbed him, all trying to hug him at the same time. Dressed in his camouflage uniform, including his desert boots, he sat down, with the kids around him, and told them about his kids in Bagram and what kind of schools they attended.

He showed them Afghan currency, newspapers and lots of pictures of the schools that his kids attend. Because space is limited, kids there have to attend school in shifts. They have dirt floors and no electricity or running water. Girls and boys do not attend classes together. They go to separate rooms and a wall is built outside so that they cannot see each other when out of the building. CSM Green now has a program where he is getting desks, chairs and blackboards.

CSM Green had lunch in the school cafeteria with the 1st graders and there was a continuous flow of questions, not only from the students, but also from many of the teachers. He commented on the great facilities at Mary H. Wright, and took many, many pictures. He was really impressed with their computer training room and took a lot of pictures to take back to Bagram.

You have to be impressed with CSM Greens devotion not only to the duty he performs for the Army, but also his compassion for those he comes in contact with. He traveled to the US on a 7-day leave to take care of some personnel items. Out of that time he drove 250 miles each direction to visit the school and see the kids.

Jim Rohr, right, with Teacher Renee Abbott

This is a man that cares about people. I am proud to have been able to help in some small way in getting this program going at our school, where I am one of the volunteer teacher's assistants. I am most proud of CSM Green for his unselfishness in going way out of his way to visit those whom he can now call "his kids".

As he prepared to leave, he presented to Mrs. Abbott and to me Medals of Excellence, from Operation Enduring Freedom, Bagram Airfield, Afghanistan. You can be assured we both will place these medals in positions of honor in our homes.

I am looking forward to one of our greatest reunions yet, because this is the year when we will see our memorial at Fort Benning dedicated. All of you who have donated for this memorial should be proud, and we also have a lot of people who have worked hard to see it come to fruition. Our president and the memorial committee have done an excellent job for us. But, while we are preparing for this years activities, we must not forget that the 17th infantry is preparing once again to go to war, the first battalion might very well be engaged in combat in southwest Asia, even before our October reunion. Our thoughts and our prayers go with them, and I know they will add to our glorious and courageous history, and will continue to live up to our motto, truth and courage!

USO, NFL HONOR ARMY RANGERS

By Staff Sgt. Jennifer Lindsey
455th Air Expeditionary Wing Public Affairs

BAGRAM AIRFIELD, Afghanistan – The stars came out in the afternoon here one Dec. 16, highlighting the construction of the Pat Tillman USO Center, located near the airfield passenger terminal. A symbolic ground breaking ceremony kicked off a United Service Organizations (USO) Christmas Holiday tour, featuring both military, sports and Hollywood star power.

Gen. Richard B. Myers, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; John Elway, National Football League legend and Super Bowl champion; and Ed Powell, USO president; joined Maj. Gen. Eric T. Olson, Combined Joint Task Force-76 commander, on stage to officially dedicate the facility in memory of Army Ranger Pat Tillman.

General Olson explained the significance of the 2,300 square-foot building honoring the former NFL star who left professional football to serve as an Army Ranger. After serving tours in Iraq and Afghanistan, Specialist Tillman was killed in April 2004 in the Khost province during a firefight with insurgents.

"This is going to be a very important and popular place," he said. "What made Pat Tillman a hero, wasn't the fact that he died for his country, it was that he was willing to die for his country," quoted the general from an article about the Soldier by Washington Times Reporter John Feinstein. ... "That's what makes you all heroes too."

General Myers praised the significance of the new facility as a symbol of deployed troops' dedication to mission success and to the partnerships they have developed with the people of Afghanistan. He also thanked the NFL for the organization's $250,000 contribution, which made construction of the new facility a reality. The general concluded by lauding the USO for "following the military wherever it goes" and for managing the facility when it opens in early February.

On behalf of the National Football League, John Elway shared his thoughts on the sacrifices of those who serve.

"Knowing the opportunities the NFL offers ... it had to be a huge deal for Pat to walk away, to come here and to join forces with you all. In my mind, he's a hero and to me, you are all heroes because you're working your tails off so we can continue living the lives we do in the U.S.A.," concluded the NFL Hall of Fame legend.

Sara Farnsworth, who is the USO Vice President; Leeann Tweeden, Sports Show Co-Host and Model; Robin Williams, Comedian and Oscar-winning Actor; and Blake Clark, Comedian and Actor, also attended the event and joined in the building dedication by digging in the construction grounds.

U.S. Army engineers, designers and local Afghan construction crews are currently working around the clock to complete the two-story structure in time for the Super Bowl on Feb. 6. Funding for the $450,000 project has been provided by the NFL and the U.S. Army.

Upon completion, the center will feature: a 36-person television room with a 42-inch plasma TV, a kitchen area, an internet café, a 10-person X-Box gaming center, a 41-person coffee bar, a morale call area, a small shoppette and male and female flushing toilet facilities. The craftsman mission-style interior, featuring rooms of various colors, geometric designs and vaulted ceilings, is designed to give customers a homey feel, said the project officer Capt. Jason Holstead, 416th Engineering Command, Facility Engineering Team.

The exterior is reminiscent of a Texas hill-country ranch home with stone facades, dark wooden siding and exposed beams. Adding to the down-home theme, Specialist Mark Silvia, 210th Engineer Detachment from New Hampshire, also designed a 3,000 square-foot porch to provide more places for service members to relax during the warmer months.

"The USO requested that the center have a comfortable coffee house feel to it," said the captain. "I believe this place is going to be the hottest spot on all of Bagram."

Korean War Soldier Finally Comes Home

Editor's Note: This Associated Press story from The San Antonio Express News was sent to us by Association Member Darrell Colley

HOUSTON - Billy Donahoe's family shed tears of happiness as the Korean War veteran returned home to be buried.

Donahoe was a 26-year-old Army master sergeant when he was declared missing in action 54 years ago after the Battle of Chosin Reservoir.

"There is sadness, and there is joy that he is finally home," said Linda Anderson Watley, his niece.

It was three years ago when the remains of 11 Army infantrymen killed in the battle were discovered in a mass grave. Earlier this year, Donahoe's family learned from military officials that his could be among them.

"We always thought this day would come. Today, I would say I feel hope," said Harry Anderson, Donahoe's nephew.

"That's why we reserved the cemetery plot next to his mama," Donahoe was buried Tuesday beside his mother, Sudie Donahoe Fontenot, in a family plot.

Anderson said the hope he feels after more than five decades of uncertainty should be extended to all Americans, particularly those with loved ones serving in Gulf War II.

Army Maj. Scott Erdo delivered to Donahoe's family a copy of the report of his death compiled by the Joint POW/MIA Accounting Command at Hickam AFB, Hawaii. He said he didn't think the family gave up hope. "The military made this family a promise,"

Erdo said. "What this says to all the families in the military is, we will not give up until every fallen soldier is recovered."

Donahoe was a Marine veteran of World War II who joined the Army in 1946. "Full of adventure, full of love and not wanting to sit still for any length of time, you know," Anderson said. He'd been in Korea "for only a few days," relatives said, when they received word he was missing.

Three years later, the Army declared him dead. After the discovery of the remains, military officials asked relatives for a DNA sample to aid in the identification, but the process became complicated because Donahoe had been adopted. Army dog tags and dental records finally confirmed his identity.

Donahoe was buried beside his adoptive mother. "She went to her grave thinking that Billy was still alive and that he would come home from Korea," Anderson said.

NEW CITIZENS IN AFGHANISTAN

For centuries, the freedoms and opportunities of the United States fueled the dreams of the oppressed. Millions of people overcome great obstacles to travel there, looking to live the "American Dream."

For 17 members of the Coalition serving in Afghanistan, the American Dream became a reality as they took the oath of citizenship at Bagram Air Base Oct. 1.

The National Defense Act signed by President Bush last year legalized the naturalization of U.S. service members on foreign soil, allowing these 17 Soldiers to become the first to take the oath overseas. "The people around you are welcoming you as citizens with open arms," said U.S. Ambassador to Afghanistan Zalmay Khalilzad during the ceremony. "You are able to pursue the dreams and high ideals that are part of the American creed."

Ranging in rank from private first class to staff sergeant, these 17 Soldiers represent 13 countries, but each willing to fight for the country they now call "home." "I can't be any more proud of bringing the pride and honor of being a citizen to people who are defending America," said Eduardo Aguirre, director of U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services. "It's important to defend our freedom, it's not cheap; it costs blood."

Each of these Soldiers is willing to pay that price." Spc. Christian Rendonvelasquez is one of the Soldiers willing to pay the price to be free. A native of Colombia, Rendonvelasquez has lived in the United States for 16 years and is the last member of his immediate family to become a naturalized citizen. He is also the first person in his entire family to serve in the U.S. military. "After 9/11 I thought it was my duty as an alien resident to help in the fight," said Rendonvelasquez, a member of 2nd Battalion, 265th Air Defense Artillery Regiment. "Now, I think it's the best feeling in the world to know I am serving my country."

Non-citizens are able to serve in the U.S. military, but they are restricted to an eight-year period of service. There are other limitations as well, such as the level of clearance they can receive and the ranks they can obtain. These restrictions spurred one Soldier, Spc. Ronald J. Carrion, CJTF-76, to work hard to become a citizen. "I've been in the Army for four years," said Carrion. "I enjoy serving, and I want to become a warrant officer."

I knew to do that, I needed to become a citizen." Carrion moved to the United States from Ecuador 12 years ago. "My father was looking for a better future for us. He's still working on attaining some of his goals, but I know we've lived a much better life."

Now that he's become a citizen of the United States, Carrion is able to continue pursuing his goals within the military. He said one thing has changed, however. "Now, I am serving my country."

OLIVER NORTH IN AFGHANISTAN

Oliver North may be best known for his involvement in the Iran-Contra scandal in the 1980's, but many troops here in Afghanistan looked at retired Marine Lt. Col. Oliver North, now a best selling author and Fox News correspondent, as an American hero.

North was in Afghanistan to cover the first overseas naturalization ceremony ever conducted by the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services. Seventeen Soldiers took the oath of allegiance, completing the difficult path of becoming American citizens. "I got to be a part of a great ceremony today where 17 young Soldiers got to be American citizens," said North.

"These are people who came to our country, volunteered to serve in our Armed Forces and who respect the values of freedom and liberty we're now sharing with the people of Afghanistan."

Earlier in the day, North and his crew covered the Combined Joint Task Force-76 shoulder sleeve insignia ceremony. The ceremony also marked the 63rd birthday of the 25th ID (L). Maj. Gen. Eric T. Olson, CJTF-76 commander, and Command Sgt. Maj. Franklin G. Ashe, CJTF-76 command sergeant major, awarded Tropic Lightning "combat patches" and Global War on Terrorism Expeditionary and Global War on Terrorism Service medals to troops.

Covering the military and showing people back home what deployed troops are accomplishing is a passion for North. "I really do believe the American people deserve to see how well their sons and daughters are performing in very, very difficult circumstances," said North. "This is anything but comfortable. We've got some of the finest young people we've ever had serving in the uniform of the armed forces of the United States."

The American people deserve to see them when they're out there putting their lives on the line, defending us from people who would take our lives in a heartbeat if given the chance."

North's visit to Afghanistan was brief, but not lacking in eventfulness. He had time to accompany the Soldiers of Schofield Barracks' 58th Military Police Company on a presence patrol around Bagram village. "I think it's great," said Master Sgt. Peter Ladd, 58th MP Co. tactical operations noncommissioned officer. "Oliver North is a former service member himself, he takes a lot of pride in the military and the Soldiers know a lot about him. This is great for the morale of the Soldiers, for our unit to be picked to escort him."

North climbed into the cramped confines of a high mobility multipurpose-wheeled vehicle for a two-hour patrol around the airfield. It was a relatively uneventful patrol, He said, "I have the best job in the world, because all I do is hang around with heroes like you."

TO THE YALU AND BACK

17th Infantry Regiment, only
American unit to make it there

By DON MOORE
Charlotte Sun, Port Charlotte, FL

Lt. Col. Herbert Powell, commander of the 17th Infantry Regiment, second from the right, stands with some of his men at the bank of the Yalu River, separating North Korea from Manchuria, during the early months of the Korean War. Cpl. Larry Haynes was there, too.

Cpl. Larry Haynes and the men of the 17th Infantry Regiment, 7th Division stood on the frozen bank of the Yalu River. The geographically significant stream snakes its way between North Korean and Communist Manchuria. It was Nov. 21, 1950, the Korean War had been raging for five months.

They were the only American unit to make the march all the way to the Yalu during the war.

They took this objective which Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the Supreme United Nations Commander wanted and then pulled out and began advancing to the rear.

The 17th Regiment had battled its way north from Iwon, on the east coast up the Korean peninsula. Against persistent Chinese resistance they took Hyesanjin, just south of the river, just before Thanksgiving 54 years ago. Col. Herbert Powell, commander of the 17th Regiment, had his picture taken along the river's southern bank holding one end of an American flag surrounded by seven of his half-frozen G.I.'s. The picture, distributed by International News Service to commemorate the occasion a few days after it took place, notes.

The flag was made by the people of Hyesanjin in anticipation of the coming of U.N. forces.² MacArthur, a fabled five-star general who made his reputation as an astute commander in World War I and again in World War II, was on a roll in Korea at the beginning of the conflict.

Two months earlier his forces cut off the North Korean reinforced division that started the trek 6,000 were killed and wounded and another 6,000 who sustained frostbite. Ten Medals of Honor were awarded members of the 1st Marine Division and 70 Marines received the Navy Cross, this country's second highest award for valor under fire, before they made it back to the beach at Hungnam, where they were rescued by the U.S. Navy, hordes of Chinese and North Korean troops in hot pursuit.

Haynes and the men of the 17th Infantry Regiment, 7th Division left Inchon after their successful invasion in conjunction with the marines and headed south for Pusan.

Once there they took troop ships around the tip of the Korean peninsula and landed along the east coast at Iwon, north of the 38th Parallel that divides the country between north and south. On Oct. 31, 1950 the 17th Regiment disembarked and began its long hike to the Yalu.

It would take the 5,000-man reinforced 17th Infantry Regiment the better part of a month to reach Hyesanjin, 125-miles into the interior of North Korea. MacArthur assured us we'd be home for Christmas, Haynes recalled. That's why we weren't properly clothed for the extremely cold weather we encountered on the way up and back from the Yalu. The general also said the Chinese weren't going to get into the war. He was wrong on both scores.

Sgt. Haynes is pictured at 21 wearing his Combat Infantry Badge, Purple Heart ribbon and five Battle Stars for five major campaigns in which he participated. He also received the Bronze Star for valor, and recently, the Korean War Medal.

Army's attack into the south by severing the enemy's supply line with his gutsy but tricky landing at Inchon. It caused the North Korean's initial offensive to collapse.

The 7th Infantry Division, together with segments of the 1st Marine Division hit the beach at Inchon on Sept. 15, 1950. Task Force Seven, some 70,000 infantry and marines, arrived off shore in four aircraft carriers and 315 additional ships. Because of the extreme rise and fall of the tide at Inchon Harbor it was a hazardous amphibious assault, which MacArthur's troops pulled off without a hitch. Within days the 1st and 7th Divisions had relieved the pressure on the American 24th and 25th Divisions together with the Republic of Korea troops who had been taking a pounding from superior enemy forces further to the south around Pusan.

After Inchon the 1st Marine Division made it's historic 75-mile march from Hungnam, along the east coast of the Korean peninsula, north to the Chosin Reservoir. Then they marched back under impossible weather conditions confronted by overwhelming enemy forces.

Before it was over we were outnumbered about 10 to 1 by mostly Chinese troops, the 73-year-old North Port man said. 'Much of the time we were surrounded by the enemy.' The Marines from the 1st Division suffered the same fate at the same time. They were poorly clad, under supplied and lacked the manpower to confront vastly numerically superior Chinese forces as the slogged their way up the west side of the Korean peninsula to the reservoir at Chosin. Like Cpl. Haynes and his buddies they spent much of their time going and coming surrounded by enemy forces and under constant attack. 'It was a two-lane, winding, mountain road all the way up to Hyesanjin with a steep drop off on one side. The weather was getting worse and worse as we fought our way north, he said.

It was early December and I remember seeing a thermometer outside in the snow one day that read minus 39 degrees. We weren't equipped for this kind of weather. It was about this time they began encountering strong resistance from Chinese forces.

MacArthur, whose headquarters were in Tokyo thousands of miles away from the front lines, initially questioned the involvement of Chinese soldiers in the Korean conflict despite what his front line commanders told him.

Haynes and the men of the 17th Regiment had no doubts that Chinese were involved in the conflict because they had been killing them by the hundreds. When their regiment reached the Yalu.

MacArthur wanted to continue north into Manchuria and take on the Chinese on their home turf. President Harry Truman wouldn't sanction such a battle plan.

The president and his advisors decided such an incursion would launch World War III. Truman ordered the general to pull his troops back from the Manchurian border.

It was just about Thanksgiving 1950 when Haynes and his regiment reached the Yalu. The weather was well below zero, the 17th Regiment was greatly outnumbered by enemy forces although they didn't realize how badly until a few days later on their advance to the rear, Haynes said. He was a 19-year-old machine gunner at the time.

The Chinese had come across the Yalu and taken the high ground before we knew what was going on. Then they started bombarding us with artillery and night attacks, Haynes said. The enemy would smoke opium before they charged as they blew bugles and played loud music during the dark hours. It worked on us young guys' minds, he recalled. As it got daylight there was total silence. Then all of a sudden they came right up at you like a swarm of ants screaming and yelling and firing their weapons. The mental strain and the cold were probably as much of a problem as the Chinese shooting at you. A lot of our guys lost it. They threw their weapons away and gave up, he said. I'm not going anywhere, they would say. Then they would sit down along the side of the road and freeze to death. The high water mark for Cpl. Haynes and the other eight soldiers in his machine gun squad came on the last half of their god-awful return march to the coast late in December. 'We came to this one pass. The Chinese had blown up the bridge across this deep gorge. Our whole convoy came to a halt. For the next 12 hours, while the bridge was being rebuilt, we were susceptible to enemy fire from higher ground, he said. 'This young lieutenant of engineers asked that some bridge sections be parachuted into us.

Within hours he and his men had spanned the chasm with a new bridge. In the meantime, Haynes and several other machine gun squads formed the rear guard. It was their responsibility to hold back the overwhelming onslaught of enemy troops who had the Americans surrounded with their backs against the deep precipice.

Haynes and his squad, together with the other machine gun squads in his regiment, held the line. By the time the 17th Regiment reached the protective gunfire of the U.S. fleet they were within 20-miles of the beach at Hungnam. At that point what was left of Haynes unit converged with the remains of the 1st Marine Division that had suffered the same fate as they fought their way back from Chosin.

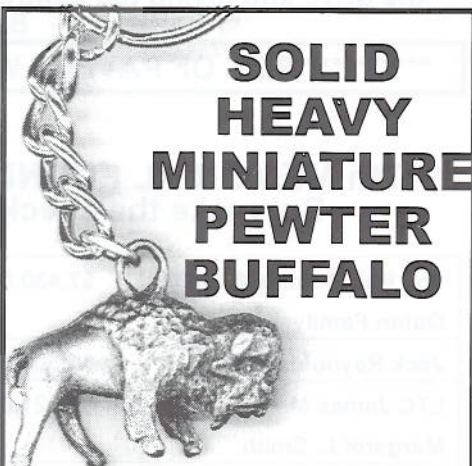

It was Dec. 20, 1950 and the enemy was right on our butts. We also had tens of thousands of refugees with us trying to escape the Chinese, too, he said. 'We lined up our tanks and our howitzers to keep the enemy at bay along with our naval guns lobbing shells at them. As we got aboard LST's (transport ships), with 100,000 refugees who escaped with us, our demolition crew blew up the tanks, guns and the city of Hamhung.

Three days later they arrived at Pusan and the relative safety of South Korea. As he completed his story, while sitting at a table in the comfort of his North Port home, former Cpl. Larry Haynes looks at a U.S. military map of the Korean War. He points to Hungnam, along the east coast of Korea, where he and the men of the 17th Infantry Regiment were rescued by U.S. Navy ships after almost being overwhelmed by enemy forces 10 times their size.

Haynes, 7th Division said a lifetime later, by the time the 17th Regiment reached the ships at the coast we had bottomed out. We crowded aboard the LST's with the refugees. It was at that point; I finally realized we made it.

Life Member John Graham is always doing something for our Association. Last year he visited The Buffalo Trace Brewery in Kentucky, and obtained for us several Buffalo items to sell and Raffle off for our "Buffalo Bill" Scholarship Fund.

This year he's been extremely active in obtaining school supplies to send to Tim green for the Afghanistan Children.

He showed me a Mini Pewter Buffalo that he bought at The Buffalo Trace Distillery. I called the President of the Distillery and explained what the Buffalo meant to us. She put me in contact with their supplier and I was able to obtain 200 of them at a discount. The ones with the key chain cost us $3.80 and the ones for a necklace, without the key chain were $3.40.

We'll sell them at our Reunion for $5.00, with the profit going to the Buffalo bill Scholarship Fund.

THE 17th INFANTRY MEMORIAL MONUMENT FUND

To date we've raised $66,984.00 We spent $7,930.00 for our Bronze Buffalo, which should leave us $59,050.00 in our account. This includes some $1,327.11 interest our account has earned from Merrill Lynch since we started this account. Below is an accurate record of all checks that were received and passed on to the Foundation Treasurer, Jack Reynoldson. All donations of $117.00 or more entitle the donor to be remembered on a Paver in the Memorial.

ALL DONATIONS ARE TAX DEDUCTIBLE

We are a 501(c) 3 Non-Profit Corporation and our IRS Tax I.D. Number is # 392035570
Checks should be made out to 17th Infantry Memorial Association, Inc.

WE HAVE NOW FIRMED UP THE EXACT SIZE OF THE PAVERS. THERE IS A FORM IN THE CURRENT ISSUE OF THE BUGLE ON PAGE 23 TO FILL OUT WITH THE INFORMATION YOU WISH ON YOUR PAVER.

Note To All Members:

It's not too late to donate $117.00 for a Paver for your spouse, children or grandchildren, or a buddy you wish to honor by placing their name at the Memorial. This is something that will carry their names on the Regimental Monument for all time. We expect that prior to this year's reunion we'll be closing the drive and giving the contract out to bid for our Monument, so that our 2005 Reunion can be at Ft. Benning for the unveiling of our Monument.

 SIZE OF PAVERS WILL BE 3 LINES OF 14 CHARACTORS & SPACES EACH *****

Send All Donations To:

WORLD WAR II IN THE PACIFIC

17th INFANTRY REGIMENT,
7TH INFANTRY DIVISION

April 1943 – August 1945
By CPT WARREN J. HUGHES

We recently received a copy of this book from LTC, (Ret) John Bliss, 616 Mountain Rd., Jaffrey, NH 03452 with instructions to raffle it off at our next Reunion.

The book contains an excellent record of the 17th Infantry's battles and movements from 1943 through 1945 in the ATTU, KISKA, KWAJELEIN, LEYTE, and OKINAWA areas.

It was written into an "Anecdotal History" by CPT Hughes, and later assembled into a Diary-type format by long-time friend and colleague, George E. Adams. In the words of LTC Bliss, "Adams has done an outstanding job."

Anyone desiring more information should contact LTC Bliss at the above address, or by calling him at:

2005 REUNION EVENTS

This October's Reunion of our 17th Infantry Association is scheduled for several event-filled days of super activities.

Our Reunion hotel, The Columbus Four Points Sheraton, or four nights, depending on how many participants we have signed up.

Thursday's events include a trip to Pine Mountain, Georgia for a tour through the Wild Animal Safari Park. Here we will leave our buses ton, is located at the intersection of the I-185 and the Airport Thruway, Exit #8, three minutes from the Columbus Metropolitan Airport.

We have reserved 125 of their 177 Rooms. They feature Cable TV, HBO, Whirlpool & Video Arcade Rooms, Complimentary and Courtesy Shuttle Service to and from AC Fitness Facility and the Airport.

Within a short distance from the hotel, there are several Shopping Malls, Franklin D. Roosevelt's Little White House; The Columbus River Center; The Springer Opera House; and The Coca Cola Space Science Center.

A special feature in Columbus is The "Riverfront" in Rivertown, on the banks of The Chattahoochee River.

Late Wednesday afternoon, we'll have a drawing from all those who paid the $5.00 fee to stock the Hospitality Room. The winner will get their room paid for three and board special windowless Safari Buses for a guided trip through the park.

You'll see, photograph and have the opportunity to feed Giraffes, llamas, Zebras, Buffalo, and a host of others. Animals from every part of the World roam free in a wilderness setting in this unique park.

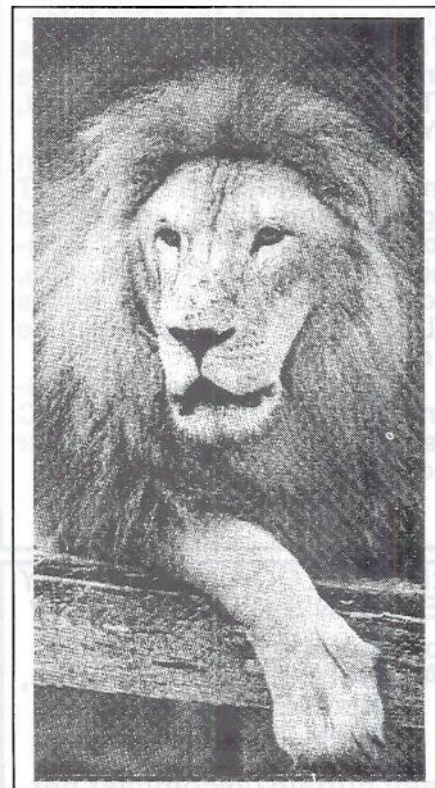

There is also a section where you may walk through. This is an area where Alligators and other exotic animals that cannot be turned loose are on exhibit.

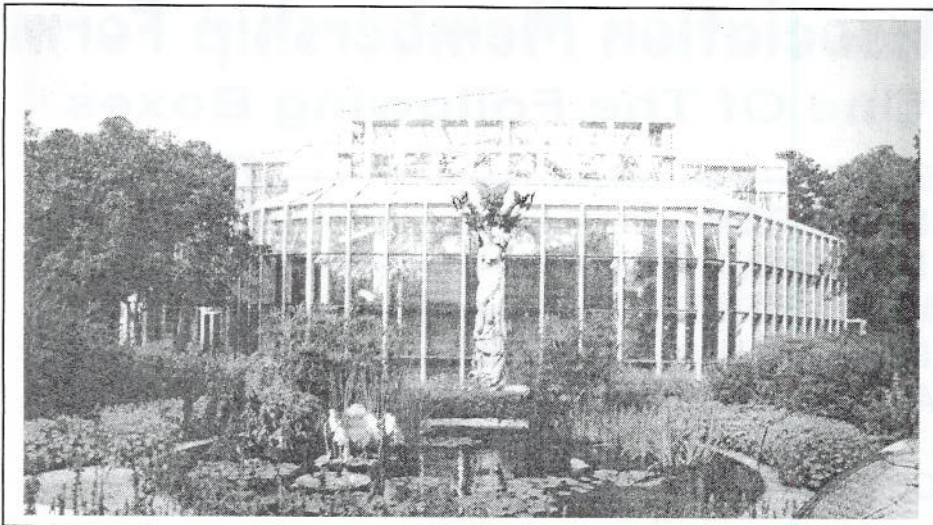

After our drive through and walking tours of the Wild Animal Park, we'll stop for a Grilled Chicken Sandwich, French Fries and a Soft Drink.

After lunch, we'll leave the Wild Animal Safari Park and once again board our tour buses and drive to Callaway Gardens a short distance away. Callaway Gardens are 14,000 acres of beauty in a man-made park, established more than 50-years ago in the Southernmost Foothills of The Appalachian Mountains.

We'll start our tour of The Callaway Gardens at The Sibley Horticulture Center where everything from exotic plants to native gardens abound. One of the highlights of the Center is an indoor 22-foot Waterfall where 350-gallons of water per minute cascade into a pool.

We'll then proceed to The Discovery Center where the highlight is a breathtaking Birds-of-Prey Show, which will leave you spellbound. In this show, a variety of Raptors including a Bald Eagle will display their talents.

Our last stop will be at the Butterfly Center where we'll walk-through the giant Conservatory that is their Day Butterfly Center. Here amidst literally millions of Butterflies, you'll see them flying among the tiny Humming Birds, some as small as the Butterflies themselves, and other Waterfowl.

There is so much to see, you may find yourself booking a return trip to take it all in.

This Reunion may very well be the one that creates in your memory a distinct urge to return and visit the area again and again.

Friday is the day we have all been waiting almost four years for.

We'll leave our hotel and board buses at 10:00

A.M. for a leisurely drive to Ft. Benning, where our first stop will be at the Ft. Benning Officer's Club for a relaxing luncheon Buffet, after which we'll drive to Sacrifice Field for the unveiling and dedication of our Monument.

I've arranged for 200 chairs, an Army Band, a Seven-Man Rifle Team to present a 21-Gun Salute.

I've engaged a local Professional Photographer, who will take at least 100-Photos of the ceremonies and after the Reunion; I'll be producing a book on the Regiment and our Association. Each individual that donated for a Paver will get a book free. Extras copies will be available at a discounted price, with all proceeds going to the Gen Quinn "Buffalo Bill" Memorial Scholarship Fund.

The photos will also be placed on a Web Site where individuals may order copies direct from the photographer.

The Infantry Museum is located a short 30-yards from our Memorial and after the ceremonies, we'll all have a couple hours to go through the Museum at your own pace. The buses will take us back to our hotel at 5:00 P.M.

Saturday Morning, we'll have our Board and Annual General Meeting and Elections while the ladies go on an optional Shopping Tour.

Saturday afternoon is free and the Banquet is set for Saturday Evening.

MEALS

I believe that we've arranged some pretty fantastic meals for our group. At our hotel, there will be a Buffet Breakfast offered to us from 06:30 to 07:45 each morning on Thursday and Friday. It will include Eggs, Bacon & Sausage among the choice of three meats, Pancakes, Biscuits, Toast & Pastries, Potatoes, Juice, Coffee and Tea. The cost for this is $8.70, including Tax & Gratuity. This must be ordered and paid for in advance. Check the Registration Form on Page 25.

The Luncheon Buffet at the Ft. Benning Officer's Club Friday will consist of Tossed Salad, Sliced Roast Round of Beef, Baked Chicken, Green Beans, Rice, Mashed Potatoes, Rolls & Butter, Iced Tea, and fruit Cobbler. The cost is $13.30 per person, including Tax & Gratuity and is included in the tour price for Friday's Ft. Benning Tour on page 25.

At our Banquet Saturday night in our hotel we'll have the choice of Three Entrée's: An Eight-Ounce Filet Mignon, with Baked Potato; Golden Fried Chicken with Gold Baked Oven Red Potatoes; or Stuffed Flounder with Rice Pilaf. The dinner also includes Salad, Rolls & Butter, Coffee or Tea and a Desert Table with your choice of Chocolate Fudge Cake, Rainbow Sherbet or Pecan Pie.

The price for this superb Dinner is $28.00 per person, including Tax and Gratuity. Banquet choices must be selected and paid for in advance on the Registration Form on Page 25 of this issue.

PLEASE SEE PAGE 27 FOR A COMPLETE BREAKDOWN OF ALL REUNION PRICES.

C.I.B. MONUMENT DEDICATION

CO "A" SWFL CIB Association.

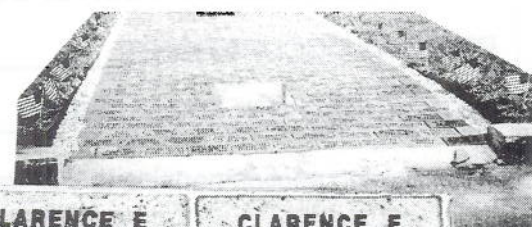

Memorial Walkway Dedicated.

On the 11th hour of the 11th month, 2004, (Veterans Day) the Southwest Florida Chapter of the Combat Infantryman's Association at Ft. Myers, dedicated this "Memorial Walkway". The project was started in 2003, is comprised of more than 390 individually inscribed bricks honoring these intrepid warriors who, during past and present wars have come face to face with our nations enemies in armed combat.

More than 300 people were in attendance, accompanied by a military "fly over" of 5 Huey Helicopters.

It was very important to create this personalized memorial to honor all the Combat Infantrymen who have served our country in times of peril.

This walkway accomplishes that goal.

OBITUARIES

Marian Head, wife of Member Herbert Head wrote to inform us that Herbert passed away on September 24, 2004.

Members who wish to drop her a card may write to her at:
36812 Tara Avenue
Zephyrhills, FL 33542

We received word that Albert N. Khalia (Rasay), who served in 1st BN, 17th INF, in W-II from 1941 to 1945 passed away on Oct 20, 2004.

We received this information from his wife, along with the above photo. Anyone who would like to write may reach her at:

2229 Surrey Road
Sacramento, CA 95815-3410

As time goes on, we count our aging years not so much as by what we've done and where we've been, but unfortunately by the friends we've lost along the way.

Too often we regret not having called or written those we served with or worked with in years past. We attend funerals and say kind words about those who have passed away, but it would be much better if we had paused in our daily life and spent a little time with them while they were here. Think about it, and visit someone today.

HOW TRUE IT IS

Editor's Note: The following poem was sent to us by Board Chairman Jim Rohr. Sadly it expresses many of our feelings.

Another year has passed and we're all a little older.
Last summer felt hotter and winter seems much colder.

I rack my brain for happy thoughts,
to put down on my pad,
But lots of things that come to mind that make me kind of sad.

There was a time not long ago when life was quite a blast.
Now I fully understand about "Living in the Past"

We used to go to weddings, football games and lunches.
Now we go to funeral homes, and after-funeral brunches.

We used to have hangovers,
from parties that were gay.
Now we suffer body aches and while the night away.

We used to go out dining,
and couldn't get our fill.
Now we ask for doggie bags,
come home and take a pill.

We used to often travel to places near and far.
Now we get sore asses
from riding in the car.

We used to go out shopping for new clothing at the Mall
But, now we never bother... all the sizes are too small.

We used to go to nightclubs and drink a little booze.
Now we stay at home at night and watch the evening news.

That, my friend is how life is,
and now my tale is told.
So, enjoy each day and live it up...
before you're too damned old!

IF YOU'RE LOOKING FOR A
BUDDY OR A LONG-LOST
FRIEND, DROP US AN E-MAIL
OR A LETTER (Typed+Double-Spaced Please), AND WE'LL BE HAPPY TO PUBLISH IT HERE,
NO CHARGE.

MEMBERSHIP ROSTER AND BUFFALO BUGLE MAILING LIST AS OF JANUARY 6, 2005

Editor's Note: It was suggested that we publish a list of all members annually, so that members desiring to contact each other would have a central resource for looking up each other's address. We have therefore started that with this issue. Henceforth we will no longer print the list of Life Members in every issue, freeing up several pages for more stories and photos. This listing will appear in the Feb-March issue each year. If you see an error or omission in your listing, please be sure to advise us by December 15th each year, so that we may correct it in time for the Annual Listing in the Feb-Mar Buffalo Bugle. Explanation of the letter codes is on the back cover.

WE HAVE OUR OWN BUFFALO STRYKER COIN NOW

This will be the only minting of these coins, so you can be sure that they will become collector's items.

They are Heavy Bronze, nearly Two Inches in Diameter with a Blue & White Enamel Crest.

For many years now, we have been using the 1st Bn Coin for our awards and presentations. Last September at the Board Meeting in Pleasanton, it was decided to have our own coin made. This was the one designed and minted. We have 300 of them and in addition to using them for special presentations, they will be available for sale to our members. The cost was $3.30 each, but we will be selling them for $5.00 with the extra $1.70 going into the Buffalo Bill Memorial Scholarship Fund. If you would like to have some, send $5.00 for each coin, plus Fifty-Cents for postage to:

George Harvey
2423 Bailey
Dearborn, MI 48123

Please add $1.00 if you would prefer your coins sent by Insured Mail.

Buffalo Bugle

17th INF. REGIMENT Coat Of Arms
Motto

"Truth and Courage"

The Shield is Blue for The Infantry.

Service in the Civil War is Shown by The White Cross Patee.

The Badge of the V Corps in the Army of the Potomac, and by the Wall at Fredericksburg.

The Five Bastioned Fort was the Badge of the V Corps in Cuba.
The Buffalo represents the Regiment's Glorious History in Korea.
The Crest is a Sea Lion taken from The Spanish Arms of Manila, and the Arrows represent Indian Campaigns.
