WORLD NEWS ROUNDUP

Communist Chinese Infantry, just defeated in a 40 hour battle on Arrow Head Ridge, charged back in battalion strength shortly before midnight Thursday, and the fighting raged into the pre-dawn hours yesterday.

The new fight broke out as a comparative quiet was reported from other sectors.

Six miles south-east of Arrow Head, the U.S. 7th Division had only a few bunkers on the western slope of Pork Chop Hill to clean out before ending completely an attack similar to the first Arrow Head battle that began at the same time Monday night.

The end of the five day storm of torrential rains allowed the Air Force to strike back against the Communists. Fighter-bombers and light bombers pounded the Chinese support areas all along the battlefield.

Top level diplomats considered fixing July 15 as the deadline to a solution to the Korean crisis— or recalling the UN Assembly into emergency session.

With every day that passes without bringing a Korean truce nearer, the impatience of UN members is mounting and with it a growing sentiment for an end to U.S. dickerings with Rhee.

The West German Government has stepped up food shipments to hungry East Germany, but with the least possible publicity lest the embarrassed Communists shut off the flow at the cost of German lives.

The House Ways and Means Committee handed President Eisenhower a vital Congressional victory yesterday by approving a bill to extend the excess profits tax until January 1, 1954.

In his weekly news conference yesterday, President Eisenhower indicated that he would go to London to attend a Big Three meeting if the British propose switching the forth coming parley from Bermuda to London.

Mr. Eisenhower also told the news conference no one can tell at the moment just how the complex Korean situation is going to come out.

He stressed again that the United States will work for the eventual unification of Korea—but only by peaceful means.

The Chief Executive also said that the time has come to amend the Atomic Energy Law so that more atomic information can be made available to Americans.

Mr. Eisenhower said he has no real personal feeling about where the Big Three conference should be held, and noted that Bermuda is British soil anyway.

He also announced that a new directive will be issued soon on what books can be included in U.S. overseas libraries.

He expressed confidence that the United States can have a prosperous high employment economy after a Korean armistice.

The Chief Executive says he does not believe it is the president's function to interfere in state and local elections.

The House Un-American Activities Committee says it has heard witnesses, one of them an intimate acquaintance of the late Joe Stalin, who have named several American clergymen as members of the Communist party.

The committee did not identify the clergyman named in the testimony, nor is it stated how many are involved. The information will be checked, and, if verified, made public.

Lee Sala, veteran Donora, Pennsylvania, middleweight, and 20-year-old Randy Sandy of New York will meet in the top 10 rounder at the Eastern Parkway Arena on July 20th, it was announced yesterday.

The Randy Turpin-Bobo Olson bout for the undisputed world middleweight title tentatively set for August 27th in New York, has been set back, possibly until mid. October at the request of Turpin's manager. He asked for more time because Turpin recently was involved in an auto accident.

Tony Trabert, hard hitting player captain of the United States tennis team, and Kosei Kamo drew the honors yesterday for opening the U.S.-Japan Davis Cup matches today.

Hamilton Richards, newly crowned U.S. collegiate champion, will meet Atsushi Miyagi, rising 21-year-old Japanese star, in the other first day singles matches. No doubles teams have been named as yet.

Frank Stranahan outshined Ben Hogan and the best of the Empire golfers yesterday as he fired a two under par 70 to take the first round lead in the British Open Golf Tournament. In addition to Stranahan, five others topped Hogan's 73.

Late news

The Communist high command Wednesday accepted Gen. Mark W. Clark's proposal to go ahead with the final preparations for a UN-Communist truce with or without the support of Syngman Rhee.

Meanwhile, Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson was closeted with Rhee for almost an hour yesterday morning. Robertson did not talk with reporters.

Fifteen minutes earlier General Clark had arrived in Seoul for a first hand look at the armistice situation. General Clark said he would discuss the truce situation with Robertson and confer with Eighth Army Commander General Taylor and Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, the chief UN armistice delegate. General Clark denied that he had received any instructions from Washington on the truce negotiations.
